

Quiz Answer Key

Module M1-4 Review Quiz

1. How do Window and Crossing selection boxes differ?

- a. Window selects all objects fully inside, while Crossing selects objects touching or inside the selection box.
- c. Window selects objects fully inside, while Crossing selects objects inside or touching the selection box.

2. How can you deselect a selected object?

- b. Hold <Shift> and click the object.

3. What occurs when you select objects before initiating a command?

- c. They highlight by displaying as dashed with blue squares and arrows.

4. During object selection, what two options are available to you?

- a. Filter and QSelect

5. Which of the following is not an entity selection method?

- c. Lasso

6. When you select entities during a command, what do you type to change the selection mode to deselect entities?

- a. R (for Remove)

7. When you are in deselection mode during a command, what do you type to switch back to selection mode?

- b. A (for Add)