

Skills Exam 1 – Basics for Beginners

1. When the scroll wheel on the mouse is rolled forward, what happens to the content within the drawing editor?

- a. It appears magnified.
- b. It appears reduced in size.
- c. It is deleted.
- d. It is enlarged proportionally.

2. What does a base point represent in the Move and Copy commands?

- a. A fixed point used consistently for moving or copying.
- b. A constant absolute coordinate.
- c. The spacing between grid points.
- d. A reference point for selecting a group of objects.

3. How are frozen layers defined?

- a. Layers are visible and their objects can be edited.
- b. Layers are visible but their objects cannot be edited.
- c. Layers are invisible, but their objects regenerate with the drawing.
- d. Layers are invisible, and their objects do not regenerate with the drawing.

4. What is the term for a file designed to serve as the foundation for new drawings?

- a. Template
- b. Wizard
- c. Scratch File
- d. Setup File

5. Which tool enables automatic snapping to endpoints, midpoints, intersections, and similar points?

- a. Snap
- b. Grid
- c. Object Snap
- d. Ortho Mode

6. What is the purpose of Entity Snap Tracking?

- a. To locate a specific X, Y coordinate.
- b. To duplicate an object in a circular pattern around a center point.
- c. It allows you to locate new reference points in relation to one or two existing points.
- d. To indicate the north direction.

7. To create a parallelogram that functions as a single unified object, you should use:

- a. Tracking
- b. A Rectangle
- c. Object Snaps
- d. A construction line.

8. Specifying a selection that appears green with a dashed border indicates what?

- a. One or more entities have been detected.
- b. It is a Dynamic Pickbox.
- c. It is a Window Selection.
- d. It is a Crossing Selection.

9. A Layout is intended to emulate what?

- a. It contains all of the elements necessary to begin a new drawing.
- b. It is a preview of the final plot.
- c. The intended paper output.
- d. It is a place to develop your initial design.

10. When you double-click an existing MTEXT, what happens to the Ribbon?

- a. It collapses into a minimized state.
- b. It adds a contextual Text Editor tab and makes it current.
- c. It switches to the Text Editor toolbar.
- d. It turns into a Text Editor box.